Performance Note: Super Duper Alien Hunters is an offbeat comedy set in a world of quirky characters. We encourage the “strange and unusual” during your performance.

Jenny Nines wears dark clothing with dark sunglasses and approaches with a white cane.

JENNY

Come on now, boys. You know the blind woman needs some extra time.

Jenny hints at her superior skills and athleticism by performing a quick, ninja-style move with her cane.

NELSON

Whoa, take it easy, Jenny. We all know you can kick our butts.

JENNY

You're right, Commander. So to make it a fair fight, you'll need to give me another handicap...A blind woman with a hearing impairment might even things up.

NELSON

Very funny, Jenny. Now that you're here, let's get you up to speed.

JENNY

No need. I heard your voices through the walls when I was outside.

NELSON

These walls are concrete. How could you possibly hear us!

JENNY

I can hear a mouse fart in the woods, Commander.

NELSON

Really? Even the silent-but-deadly ones?

JENNY

Let's get down to business. Commander, I've been analyzing the intel. We need to know if this is an isolated event, or part of a bigger problem.

NELSON

Meaning?

JENNY

Meaning...Are we dealing with only one alien creature or a whole group of these intergalactic, flesh-eating, bug-eyed beasts?
